HOW TO READ A FACTSHEET

AUM

Benchmark

A group of securities, usually a market index, whose performance is used as a standard or benchmark to measure investment performance of mutual funds, among other investments. Some typical benchmarks include the Nifty, Sensex, BSE200, BSE500, 10-Year Gsec.

Nature of Scheme

The investment objective and underlying investments determine the nature of the mutual fund scheme. For instance, a mutual fund that aims at generating capital appreciation by investing in stock markets is an equity fund or growth fund. Likewise, a mutual fund that aims at capital preservation by investing in debt markets is a debt fund or income fund. Each of these categories may have sub-categories. categories

Application Amount for Fresh Subscription

This is the minimum investment amount for a new investor in a mutual fund scheme.

Minimum Additional Amount

This is the minimum investment amount for an existing investor in a mutual fund scheme.

Exit Load

Exit load is charged at the time an investor redeems the units of a mutual fund. The exit load is deducted from the prevailing NAV at time of redemption. For instance, if the NAV is Rs.100 and the exit load is 1%, the redemption price would be Rs. 99 Per Unit.

Yield to Maturity

The Yield to Maturity or the YTM is the rate of return anticipated on a bond if held until maturity. YTM is expressed as an annual rate. The YTM factors in the bond's current market price, par value, coupon interest rate and time to maturity.

Modified Duration

Modified duration is the price sensitivity and the percentage change in price for a unit change in yield.

Standard Deviation

Standard deviation is a statistical measure of the range of an investment's performance. When a mutual fund has a high standard deviation, its means its range of performance is wide, implying greater volatility.

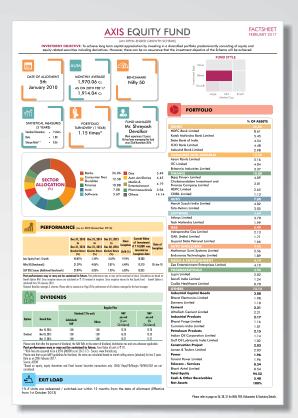

Sharpe Ratio

The Sharpe Ratio, named after its founder, the Nobel Laureate William Sharpe, is a measure of risk-adjusted returns. It is calculated using standard deviation and excess return to determine reward per unit of risk.

Beta

Beta is a measure of an investment's volatility vis-à-vis the market. Beta of less than 1 means that the security will be less volatile than the market. A beta of greater than 1 implies that the security's price will be more volatile than the market.

Holdings

The holdings or the portfolio is a mutual fund's latest or updated reported statement of investments/ securities. These are usually displayed in terms of percentage to net assets or the rupee value or both. The objective is to give investors an idea of where their money is being invested by the fund manager.

An employee of the asset management company such as a mutual fund or life insurer, who manages investments of the scheme. He is usually part of a larger team of fund managers and research analysts.

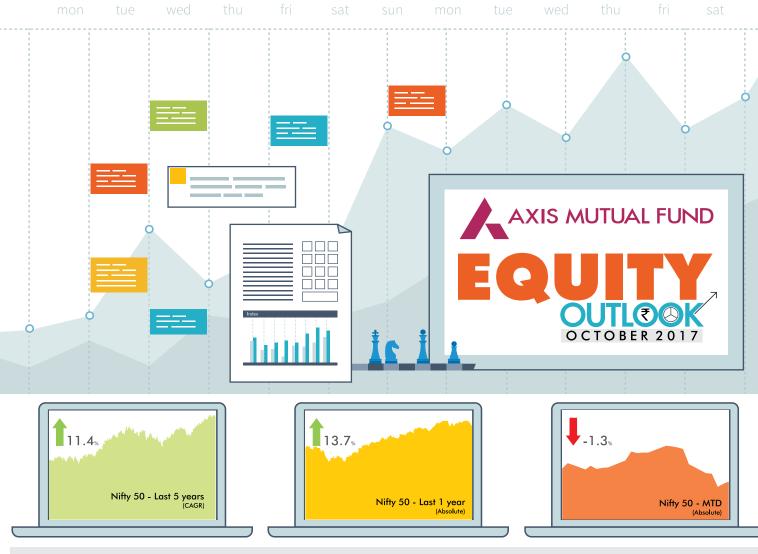

SIP

SIP or Systematic Investment Plan works on the principle of making periodic investments of a fixed sum. It works similar to a recurring bank deposit. For instance, an investor may opt for an SIP that invests ₹ 500 every 15th of the month in an equity fund for a period of three years.

Entry Load

A mutual fund may have a sales charge or load at the time of entry and/or exit to compensate the distributor/agent. Entry load is charged at the time an investor purchases the units of a mutual fund. The entry load is added to the prevailing NAV at the time of investment. For instance, if the NAV is to the prevailing NAV at the time of investment, For instance, in the set ₹ 100 and the entry load is 1%, the investor will enter the fund at ₹101.

QUICK TAKE

Equity market valuations are broadly reasonable adjusted for the cyclical low in earnings and potential for revival going forward.

We remain bullish on equities from a medium to long term perspective

Investors are suggested to have their asset allocation plan based on one's risk appetite and future goals in life.

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

CORPORATE

Equity market sentiment weakened for the second month in a row as global risk-off events resulted in foreign investor sentiments turning cautious. The escalating war of words between the US and North Korea has once again created an overhang of geo-political risk on the markets. Crude oil saw a big jump and is now trading at its highest levels in the last 18 months. To add to the woes, US Fed reiterated its commitment towards balance sheet unwinds and higher rates. The Nifty Index was down 1.3 percent in September, while S&P Midcap Index shed 1.2 percent. Owing to the above factors, indian markets witnessed sharp corrections in the last days of September. We believe that corrections are a part and parcel of any healthy bull market and we should not over interpret the recent market movement which has come after a massive 9 month rally since the demonetization lows. (29% peak to trough from 26th Dec '16 to 19th September '17). Markets have had a one-way run with low volatility since then. Domestic Institutional Investors supported the market with Rs. 21,026 crores on the back of strong mutual fund SIP flows. However, large supply of new paper in the form of several large IPOs have hit the market of late, taking out part of the liquidity coming from domestic investors.

Liquidity has been affected by the FII sell-off and supply from large IPOs but both are temporary factors. FIIs have been investing in India over the long term, and we have yet to see sustained redemptions from them over this period. A large IPO pipeline is actually a medium term positive for the market, as it provides new investible ideas for fund managers.

The economy is passing through a period of transition and adjusting to the new normal, primarily on account of implementation of demonetisation and Goods and Service Tax or GST. Disruptions on account of GST roll out have yet to fully settle down and are likely to take longer than initially expected further affecting growth in the coming quarters.

Worries about a domestic growth slowdown present the most serious worry for the investors. However, even here the issues around GST implementation were not a surprise even if the extent of impact was unclear. We continue to believe that the economy has the advantage of a solid macro foundation, which combined with structural reforms will push growth higher in the medium term. However transition times are always tricky to estimate, and thus it's easier to have conviction on the 2-3 year scenario than a 2-3 quarter one. Implementation of the bankruptcy bill is providing the first signs of resolution of the banking system NPA crisis. If taken to its logical conclusion, this can transform the corporate environment over the next 12-18 months

Headline consumer price index (CPI) for the month of August was reported at 3.36% up from previous month's reading of 2.36%. Core inflation also rose to 4.50% up from 3.96% in the previous month. The pick-up in core inflation can be attributed to higher housing inflation on account of the hike in house rent allowance (HRA) for government employees as recommended by the Seventh Central Pay Commission (7th CPC), and higher taxes on consumer goods and 'sin goods' under the Goods and Services Tax or GST regime. The Index of Industrial Production or IIP rose 1.2% YoY in July 2017, up from -0.1% in the previous month. The pick-up was on account of higher mining output and electricity production.

Domestic auto sales gained momentum ahead of the festive season. PV sales increased 14% while two-wheeler segment reported 15% YoY growth. CV sales growth of 17% YoY was the highest since October last year.

The June-to-September south-west monsoon, which was forecast to be normal this year, has ended with a shortfall of 5%, as compared to the normal or 50-year average. IMD classifies rainfall in the 96-104% of long period average as 'normal'. The data on the progress of area coverage under Kharif crops as on September 29 shows a marginal drop in area under coverage. The area under rice, pulses and oilseeds have shown a minor drop as compared to last year, however, coverage of commercial crops like sugarcane and cotton has gone up.

QUICK TAKE

- Reserve Bank of India left key policy rates unchanged in its October policy maintaining a neutral stance.
- In the absence of a clear direction on rates we do not see value in long bonds given the much higher duration risk.
- Investors with a medium term holding horizon should look to short and medium term funds, while those with a short-term holding period should consider liquid and ultra-short funds.

The Reserve Bank of India left key policy rates unchanged in its bimonthly review of monetary policy. The committee voted 5-1 to keep the repo rate at 6%, with the lone dissent in favour of a rate cut.

Since November last year, inflation has remained below RBI's target of 4%. Nevertheless RBI has been holding rates mostly steady until a rate cut in August. RBI's key reason to hold rates steady has been that the drop in inflation this year has been on mostly transitory factors such as an unexpected drop in food prices; and therefore it is likely that in the months to come, inflation would once again rise above 4%. The current RBI forecast calls for inflation to reach 4.6% by the end of this financial year and remain close to 4.5% by end FY2019. This rise in inflation from current levels is expected to be driven by pay commission and GST effects.

While inflation has undershot previous expectations, so too has growth. The most recent GDP print of 5.7% for the June quarter was underpinned by a five year low in manufacturing growth of 1.2%. RBI follows a flexible inflation targeting framework. This suggests that with inflation close to target and weakening growth outlook, there is scope for monetary accommodation. However, RBI appears primarily guided by the risk of inflation remaining above its target than growth undershoot.

Complicating the equation is the risk of fiscal slippage. State government deficits have run high in recent years following the UDAY scheme for restructuring power sector debts. Now many states have announced farm loan waivers which may keep deficits high. The centre too has brought expenditure upfront this year to support growth that has taken the fiscal deficit for the first five months of the year to 96% of the full-year target. This means that there is the added risk of the centre not meeting its fiscal goals this year. The combined fiscal deficit (centre + states) has remained stubbornly above 6% for years now and any rise could result in inflationary pressures.

On the whole then, the RBI has indicated that it is maintaining a neutral stance to monetary policy – suggesting limited scope for rate cuts.

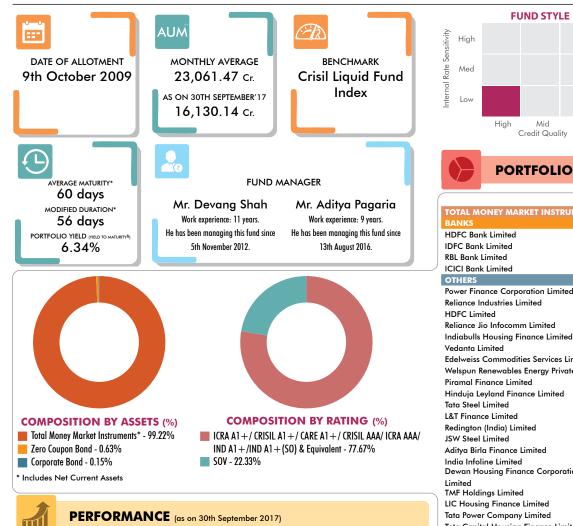

Benchmark 10-year G-Sec yields rose by about five basis points to 6.7%. The relatively small market reaction is indicative of the fact that the policy was largely on expected lines. Going forward it is likely that RBI will be on hold for a period of time and therefore it is likely that gilt yields too will be relatively range bound. It is interesting to note that despite much noise from macro indicators and the monetary policy committee, the 10-year yield has risen by just 20 bps since the start of the year.

Thanks to the excess liquidity introduced post-demonetisation, money yields are depressed and the call rate has been trading below the RBI repo rate. This has caused the yield curve to be the short end (up to 5 years) and relatively flat thereafter. In the absence of a clear direction on rates, we do not see value in long bonds given the much higher duration risk. Consequently, we expect to maintain a low duration stance on our portfolios.

Investors with a medium term holding horizon should look to short and medium term funds, while those with a short-term holding period should consider liquid and ultra-short funds.

FACTSHEET SEPTEMBER 2017

AXIS MUTUAL FUND HYBRID OUTLOOK

OCTOBER 2017

Quick Take - Equity

- Equity market valuations are broadly reasonable adjusted for the cyclical low in earnings and potential for revival going forward.
- We remain bullish on equities from a medium to long term perspective
- Investors are suggested to have their asset allocation plan based on one's risk appetite and future goals in life.

Nifty 50 - Last 1 year (Absolute)

Quick Take - Fixed Income

- Reserve Bank of India cut the benchmark reporate by 25 basis points to 6% in its August meeting.
- From a structural perspective it appears that we are very close to the end of the rate cycle.
- In the near term we expect the markets to remain range-bound.
- Investor should look to invest in short-term corporate bond funds, which are relatively insulated from duration risks but take advantage of the steep short term yield curve.

Key highlights

Equity market sentiment weakened for the second month in a row as global risk-off events resulted in foreign investor sentiments turning cautious. The escalating war of words between the US and North Korea has once again created an overhang of geo-political risk on the markets. Crude oil saw a big jump and is now trading at its highest levels in the last 18 months. To add to the woes, US Fed reiterated its commitment towards balance sheet unwinds and higher rates. The Nifty Index was down 1.3 percent in September, while S&P Midcap Index shed 1.2 percent.

Owing to the above factors, Indian markets witnessed sharp corrections in the last days of September. We believe that corrections are a part and parcel of any healthy bull market and we should not over interpret the recent market movement which has come after a massive 9 month rally since the demonetization lows. (29% peak to trough from 26th Dec '16 to 19th September '17). Markets have had a one-way run with low volatility since then.

Domestic Institutional Investors supported the market with Rs. 21,026 crores on the back of strong mutual fund SIP flows. However, large supply of new paper in the form of several large IPOs have hit the market of late, taking out part of the liquidity coming from domestic investors.

Liquidity has been affected by the FII sell-off and supply from large IPOs but both are temporary factors. FIIs have been investing in India over the long term, and we have yet to see sustained redemptions from them over this period. A large IPO pipeline is actually a medium term positive for the market, as it provides new investible ideas for fund managers.

Worries about a domestic growth slowdown present the most serious worry for the investors. However, even here the issues around GST implementation were not a surprise even if the extent of impact was unclear. We continue to believe that the economy has the advantage of a solid macro foundation, which combined with structural reforms will push growth higher in the medium term. However transition times are always tricky to estimate, and thus it's easier to have conviction on the 2-3 year scenario than a 2-3 quarter one. Implementation of the bankruptcy bill is providing the first signs of resolution of the banking system NPA crisis. If taken to its logical conclusion, this can transform the corporate environment over the next 12-18 months

Equity market valuations are broadly reasonable adjusted for the cyclical low in earnings and potential for revival going forward. We remain bullish on equities from a medium to long term perspective Investors are suggested to have their asset allocation plan based on one's risk appetite and future goals in life.

The Reserve Bank of India left key policy rates unchanged in its bimonthly review of monetary policy. The committee voted 5-1 to keep the repo rate at 6%, with the lone dissent in favour of a rate cut.

Since November last year, inflation has remained below RBI's target of 4%. Nevertheless RBI has been holding rates mostly steady until a rate cut in August. RBI's key reason to hold rates steady has been that the drop in inflation this year has been on mostly transitory factors such as an unexpected drop in food prices; and therefore it is likely that in the months to come, inflation would once again rise above 4%. The current RBI forecast calls for inflation to reach 4.6% by the end of this financial year and remain close to 4.5% by end FY2019. This rise in inflation from current levels is expected to be driven by pay commission and GST effects.

While inflation has undershot previous expectations, so too has growth. The most recent GDP print of 5.7% for the June quarter was underpinned by a five year low in manufacturing growth of 1.2%. RBI follows a flexible inflation targeting framework. This suggests that with inflation close to target and weakening growth outlook, there is scope for monetary accommodation. However, RBI appears primarily guided by the risk of inflation remaining above its target than growth undershoot.

Complicating the equation is the risk of fiscal slippage. State government deficits have run high in recent years following the UDAY scheme for restructuring power sector debts. Now many states have announced farm loan waivers which may keep deficits high. The centre too has brought expenditure upfront this year to support growth that has taken the fiscal deficit for the first five months of the year to 96% of the full-year target. This means that there is the added risk of the centre not meeting its fiscal goals this year. The combined fiscal deficit (centre + states) has remained stubbornly above 6% for years now and any rise could result in inflationary pressures.

On the whole then, the RBI has indicated that it is maintaining a neutral stance to monetary policy – suggesting limited scope for rate cuts.

Benchmark 10-year G-Sec yields rose by about five basis points to 6.7%. The relatively small market reaction is indicative of the fact that the policy was largely on expected lines. Going forward it is likely that RBI will be on hold for a period of time and therefore it is likely that gilt yields too will be relatively range bound. It is interesting to note that despite much noise from macro indicators and the monetary policy committee, the 10-year yield has risen by just 20 bps since the start of the year.

Thanks to the excess liquidity introduced post-demonetisation, money yields are depressed and the call rate has been trading below the RBI reporate. This has caused the yield curve to be the short end (up to 5 years) and relatively flat thereafter. In the absence of a clear direction on rates, we do not see value in long bonds given the much higher duration risk. Consequently, we expect to maintain a low duration stance on our portfolios.

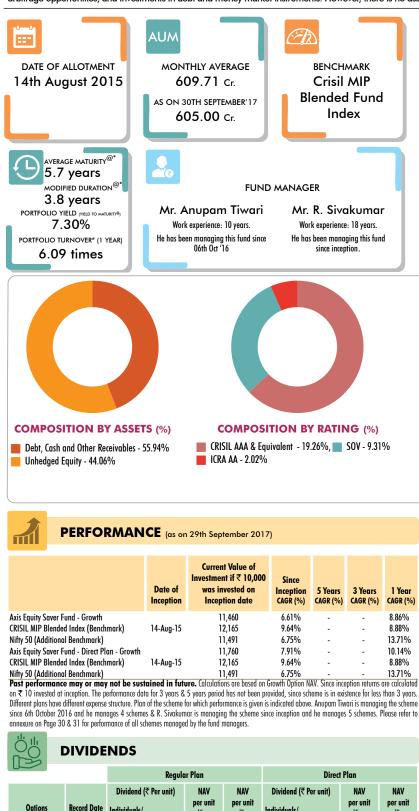

Investors with a medium term holding horizon should look to short and medium term funds, while those with a short-term holding period should consider liquid and ultrashort funds.
